ASMPT Awarded the 2015 Supplier Excellence Award

Hong Kong and Singapore, 1 April 2016: ASM Pacific Technology Limited (“ASMPT”), a world leader in the supply of semiconductor assembly and packaging equipment and materials, as well as surface mount technology applications, announced today that it has received the prestigious 2015 Supplier Excellence Award (SEA) from its customer, Texas Instruments (TI). ASMPT was recognised for its outstanding performance as a supplier of lead frames.

This is the first time that ASMPT has been presented with this award, which is TI's highest level of supplier recognition. ASMPT is one of the 14 elite companies chosen for their dedication and commitment in supplying products and services that meet TI's high standards for excellence. Using a rigorous evaluation process, TI selects suppliers that excel in the areas of cost, environmental & social responsibility, technology, responsiveness, assurance of supply, and quality.

Mr Stanley Tsui, Executive Vice President and CEO of Materials Business segment of ASMPT said: “We are honoured to receive such a high accolade from TI. The recognition is built on our continuous commitment to help TI drive growth through delivering one-stop, cost-effective total solution with high performance. We will continue to contribute to TI's business goals, helping them to deliver higher productivity and stronger technological capabilities.”

“Congratulations to ASMPT for winning this award, our highest level of supplier recognition,” said Dan Colston, Assembly Test Procurement Director at TI. “We value ASMPT's commitment to supporting TI to meet our business goals. Through key suppliers like ASMPT, TI is able to provide innovative solutions to solve our customers' problems,” he added.
