

Uyemura Expands Northeast Sales Team

Southington, CT January 22, 2025. Jason Reese has joined Uyemura as Northeast Regional Sales Engineer. Reese was formerly Technical Sales Manager for Metalor Technologies, a manufacturer of precious metal powders. In that capacity, he focused on metallization solutions for semiconductors, and the medical device sector. Prior, he was Engineering Manager at Vicor Corporation, where he developed processes for the expansion of SM-ChiP components for power modules; he also worked with electrolytic patterning programs.

As a member of Uyemura's Northeast Support Team, Reese's responsibilities focus on new program development and field service. He will work from an office in southern New Hampshire, and the company's Connecticut Tech Center.
